The Farm Bureau Banquet.

Orleans County to the front! Organization of the Orleans County Farm Bureau is to take place at Newport next Tuesday, April 22. The Newport Board of Trade will give a complimentary banquet at one o'clock in the afternoon of that date, in school hall. At the post prandial exercises the following gentlemen will surely speak upon the subject of the hour which is of such vital importance to every farmer in the county viz: L. G. Dodge, of the U. S. department of agriculture, who is in charge of the farm management work in this section; James P. Taylor, secretary of the Greater Vermont association; and A. R. Merrill, principal of the Vail Agricultural school of Lyndon Center. The committee of arrangements also expect the following gentlemen will be present: Prof. Helles of the University of Vermont and E. S. Brigham, state commissioner of agriculture. Here is certainly an array of authority, who will propound the questions that tend to great improvement along agricultural lines. Each town and each grange in the county furnish two delegates to this meeting and the committee are preparing for an attendance of between 150 and 200. After the speaking, the assembly will proceed to organize by election of officers by the delegates. Considerable enthusiasm is manifest and there will be more evidenced after organization is fully accomplished.

Reno, King of Magic.

From every source comes word that Edward Reno, the prince of magic entertainers, who appears at Seaver's hall Friday evening as the last number in the High school lecture course, is the cleverest man in the business today. Reno has been in India where tales of wonderful magic come to us and learned their most startling tricks. He has also travelled in other foreign lands, where weird stories of magic have their beginning. All these he will bring to his Barton audience. Get your tickets early. Original course tickets with old Reno date of March 14, good for this entertainment.

Arbor Day April 25.

"In accordance with the spirit of the state and with the custom of this state, I, Allen M. Fletcher, Governor, appoint Friday, the 25th day of April, Arbor Day, and request the people of Vermont on that day to plant trees, which shall be growing symbols of freedom, prosperity and peace, and shall become both memorials of the day and a happy heritage to future generations." The above is a copy of Gov. Fletcher's arbor day proclamation.

Court rose at 9 o'clock Saturday, having been in session from March 11.

Richard Kirk and John Bailey, who were given state's prison sentence as reported last week have been taken to Windsor by Sheriff Hill.

Ments have been made, but are fast drying up. Sugaring appears to be nearly over and some are gathering their buckets, while other orchards report a fine run during the past three days. The snow is practically all gone. This item is for the benefit of our out-of-state readers.

The Woman's Literary club held its annual chafing dish party at Miss Hamblet's Wednesday evening. Twenty-seven members being present. Papers on household economics were read by Misses Findlay, Ferrin and Wheeler, followed by a piano solo by Mrs. McFarland, after which the hostess and committee served creamed chicken, wafers and coffee. This was also the occasion agreed upon for the payment of the dollar earned during the year and thirty one members responded, many with verse.

At the meeting Thursday evening for the purpose of talking over the fair ground situation the matter was thoroughly discussed and the general opinion prevailed that the property should remain in the hands of those interested in Barton. A citizens' committee was appointed to see the people of Barton and if possible raise funds sufficient for the organization of a stock company to own the property. A liberal amount was pledged that evening but a few cannot carry the project out. ALL MUST LIFT.

The sum of $27.01 has been sent to Treasurer Howard of the Vermont Branch of the Red Cross society for the relief of sufferers in the flooded districts of the central states. A collection was taken Sunday morning at the union service and the sum divided equally between the Epworth league and C. E. society. The latter named society had already voted $5 from their treasury, making its contribution $16 and that of the League $11.01. If others desire to give it may be handed to Mr. Cooper representing the League or Mr. Gilpin representing the C. E. society.

"Old Folks" Again Made Good.

The Old Folks' concert repeated in Seaver's hall Friday evening for the benefit of the Village Improvement society was again an unqualified success. The chorus numbers were the same as at the previous entertainment but were possibly better rendered. The solo parts were nearly all changed and were given to the apparent satisfaction of the audience judging from the applause. The new features in this concert were Frank Lang, impersonating "Old Black Joe" and Dr. J. A. Pearson in his hand organ stunt. In its needless to say that both were good but the hand organ number brought the house down. As the Doctor slowly turned the crank the machine emitted any tune called for and at last in response to a request to show the workings of the machine took off the cover and raised the music producing mechanism to view. It consisted of Geo. Johnson of Glover who plays a harmonica to the queen's taste. C. B. Webster, Miss McLellan and C. S. Parker appeared to be the favorite soloists and were called back for extra numbers. Miss Ferrin impersonated and read another selection from Samantha Allen that kept the audience smiling. Samantha surely had an awful time with Josiah.

The costumes as mentioned before were a feature of the entertainment that truly depicted the olden times and made the whole entertainment seem very realistic to those who remember the fashions of a generation ago. The costumes were not only old but many of them were very fine in material and well kept. Few local talent entertainments have met with such general favorable comment as this and the cause for which a generous amount has been realized is very worthy. The ladies of the Village Improvement society are to be congratulated.

A. R. Cowles as leader, was the spirit of the concert and his work as leader should be spoken of as deserving special credit.
